

Employee Onboarding SOP (Malaysia Regulatory Compliant)

1. Overview

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

This Onboarding SOP defines the structured process for integrating new employees into the organisation in a secure and compliant manner. It aligns with Malaysian labour laws, PDPA 2010 requirements for data handling, and internal security policies.

baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

HR must prepare employment contracts, confidentiality agreements, and PDPA consent forms. IT must provision accounts following least privilege principles and prepare required equipment with baseline security hardening applied.

3. First-Day Requirements

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

Employees shall undergo identity verification, receive equipment, and attend a mandatory security awareness briefing. HR must explain PDPA obligations, company values, and code of conduct expectations.

4. System & Application Access

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

System access must align with job responsibilities. Access rights must be documented and approved by the hiring manager. MFA activation is required on the first day. Users must acknowledge acceptable use policies.

5. Mandatory Training Program

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

Within the first week, employees must complete cybersecurity training modules aligned with CyberSecurity Malaysia recommendations. Additional modules may include anti-phishing, password hygiene, incident reporting, and data privacy.

6. Departmental Integration

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

Supervisors must brief employees on KPIs, internal workflows, and expected performance standards. Departments must ensure employees understand relevant SOPs, escalation paths, and reporting structures.

7. Performance Review & Confirmation

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

A structured probation review process must be followed. Employees must acknowledge job expectations in writing. HR records must be updated and stored in compliance with PDPA 2010.

8. Completion

Upon successful onboarding completion, all documentation must be filed. Access rights must be reconfirmed with the department head and unnecessary temporary access removed.

Upon successful onboarding completion, all documentation must be filed. Access rights must be reconfirmed with the department head and unnecessary temporary access removed.

Upon successful onboarding completion, all documentation must be filed. Access rights must be reconfirmed with the department head and unnecessary temporary access removed.

Upon successful onboarding completion, all documentation must be filed. Access rights must be reconfirmed with the department head and unnecessary temporary access removed.

Upon successful onboarding completion, all documentation must be filed. Access rights must be reconfirmed with the department head and unnecessary temporary access removed.

Upon successful onboarding completion, all documentation must be filed. Access rights must be reconfirmed with the department head and unnecessary temporary access removed.

Upon successful onboarding completion, all documentation must be filed. Access rights must be reconfirmed with the department head and unnecessary temporary access removed.